

Bruce C DuBois

Bruce C DuBois has more than 30 years of industry and lean implementation experience. Mr. DuBois has held a variety of positions in Pratt & Whitney. His experiences in Continuous Improvement include; ACE pilot in Rocky Hill and North Haven Pratt & Whitney sites and for the last 15-years supplier continuous improvement facilitator for three purchasing businesses within Pratt & Whitney. His supply base experience exposed him to a variety of continuous improvement methods and tools that he was able leverage to enhance his skills and knowledge. Mr. DuBois has also been professionally trained in effective teaching and facilitating methods. In his current position he is responsible for creating training material and conducting training sessions both internally for Pratt & Whitney and with their suppliers.

Examples of some of his accomplishments include:

- Developed the process and facilitated teams in the development of purchasing standard work
- Performed Lean assessments, gap analysis's, and improvement plans as required to support supplier development

- Created/enhanced continuous improvement training packages

- Supported Sealing Solutions, KHI, IHI, Timet and AAA Aircraft to achieve the UTC Supplier Gold level

- Certified processes within Pratt & Whitney and in the supply base

- o Facilitated three day process certification events consisting of training and shop floor process reviews. Processes certified include:

- ♣ Airflow

- ♣ OD Grinding

- ♣ EDM

- Conducted training workshops for: Escapes Elimination, Mistake proofing, RRCA, Human Factors, ACE basics, QCPC, TPM and Set up Reduction.

- Implemented eight delivery and quality clinics at suppliers

- Created six pack training material and facilitated workshops with suppliers

- Designed Delivery & Quality Clinic workshop criteria and training materials focused building a self-reliant supply base in quality and delivery improvement.

Bruce's extensive process experience in both procurement and manufacturing gives him an excellent basis to help any business succeed.

Mr. DuBois earned a Bachelor of Science in business management degree in Management from Albertus Magnus College